The Wheat Pool Changes

Following a meeting of the delegates of the Alberta Wheat Pool, the Board of Directors announce a modification of the growers' contract and a new policy of operation effective from July 16th, 1931, to the end of the present contract covering the marketing of the crops of 1931 and 1932.

Every Pool member will be given the option:

- (1) Of delivering his wheat on Pool basis, accepting the prevailing initial payment and participating in any future payments which may accrue from pooling thereof; or
- (2) Of disposing of his grain under any of the methods provided by the Canada Grain Act and obtaining full current market price for same. Any portion of a member's grain may be pooled or any portion sold outright for cash.

The new policy comes into effect immediately and members are now at liberty to select the above mentioned options for the disposal of any grain from the 1930 crop which has not already been marketed, as well as for the new crop.

The adoption of this policy means that the Alberta Pool, as an association, forgoes its right under the contract to insist that the member deliver all or any portion of his wheat on a pooling basis, at the same time enabling him to have all his grain handled through his own facilities and to pool any portion of his wheat he may see fit to pool.

Definite assurance is given that no deduction for elevator reserve, commercial reserve, or for repayment to apply on the 1929 overpayment will be taken from the proceeds of any wheat delivered by Pool members either for pooling or for immediate sale during the 1931 crop year. Satisfactory arrangements have been agreed upon with the Government of Alberta for repayment over a period of years, of the 1929 overpayment. This makes it possible to carry on without taking deduction for same from the 1931 crop.

WEDDINGS

GEIGER-WILLIAMS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Knox United Church, Calgary on July 19th, Rev. Dr. George A. Dickson officiating, when Evelyn Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Williams, of Calgary, was united in marriage with Mr. Orville St. Clair Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Geiger, of Didsbury.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace made on the flowing princess lines. Her veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Maline Butterfly roses. Her only ornament was a diamond set pendant, the gift of the bridegroom. Her attendant was Miss Frances Morrissey, of Lethbridge, who wore a dress of flowered chiffon with picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Thomas Reed acted as best man and Messrs. Earl Gillespie and William Shoobert were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The guests were received by the bride's mother who wore a black lace gown with picture hat to match and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. R. Langley, of Lethbridge, the bride's grandmother shared the honors at the table, assisted by Miss Ruth Bower, Miss Gertrude Peterson, Miss Jennie Redsell, Miss Wanda Huston and Miss Nellie Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Geiger left on their trip to the mountains and on their return will reside in Calgary.

BISHOP-MURPHY

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Drumheller United Church parsonage on July 4th, Rev. E. L. Leach officiating when Edith LeVina, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Memorial Service Held For Mrs. L. McKinney

An impressive memorial service was held in memory of the late Mrs. Louise C. McKinney, well known temperance worker and leader, on the lawn at the home of Mrs. O. E. Kruger, Thursday last.

The president opened the meeting and Miss Z. Crossman led in prayer and took the devotional, choosing the very fitting text, 2 Sam. 3:28: "Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man (a great woman) fallen this day in Israel?" She compared how this great woman, Mrs. McKinney always gave good counsel and walked circumspectly in love and how she, like Abner, is mourned world-wide. Miss Crossman spoke on Mrs. McKinney's portrait which when completed by the artist, will hang in the Parliament Building, Edmonton.

We then heard numerous clippings of her splendid personality, unusual talents, her deep Christian experiences, together with her gift of speech which made her of great usefulness both in her own and other church pulpits where she frequently served as lay preacher.

Mrs. Reiber led a very touching prayer, followed by a duet from Mrs. Berscht and John Liesemer sang a large duet while out driving near Westcott and Bert Bradford reported a mouse on his farm, ten miles north-west.

Big game is coming in from the hills and several have been reported. H. M. Reiber and John Liesemer saw a large deer while out driving near Westcott and Bert Bradford reported a mouse on his farm, ten miles north-west.

beige ensemble with picture hat to match. The ensembles were dressed in pink and pale green ensembles with picture hats to match.

Don't Be Critical

There are two kinds of criticism, one that nowadays we refer to as "constructive" criticism, and the other that in common parlance we term "destructive" criticism. To be exact, the word criticism should not be employed in connection with the latter.

Criticism is a fine old English word which in its pure significance, so a recent writer has pointed out, implies carefully weighing and balancing; fine, exact, authoritative judgment. Needless to say the heading over this article does not refer to such true form of criticism.

In modern usage the word has been debased, and divorced from its true meaning. Today its implication is not to take the measure of something or some one, but rather to point out, dwell upon, magnify the defects of something or some one. The tendency is not to balance, but to distort, to become cynical, to carp at, to indulge in wholesale fault-finding, to seek to destroy what is rather than to work for betterment. It is in this sense we say: Don't be critical.

In so many respects people are the product of their environment that it takes an unusually strong person to stand erect and breast the onrushing tide of current opinion. When times are prosperous, business booming, stocks and bonds mounting ever higher, when nine out of every ten people are optimists, many of them merely because it is the fashion to be so, they become extremely critical of the person who advises caution. Such a person is characterized as a non-progressive, labelled a back number, when as a matter of fact he may be more truly progressive, more far-seeing, more of a real builder than those who deride him.

Reversing the picture, we find in these present days that the vast majority of people are pessimistic and because conditions are admittedly not good they are critical of and would destroy those very institutions under which they developed and enjoyed their former prosperity, and they now denounce those who again urge caution and a carefully weighing of all the facts before taking a leap in the dark, they are impatient with and critical of all those who advise sane, clear thinking and careful, well-thought out action rather than wholesale destruction of that which has gone before.

Environment, too, has a great deal to do with our pet prejudices, and prejudice is the fruitful source of a very large percentage of harmful criticism. It is only the accident or circumstances of birth that makes a person one of the white race rather than a negro or an oriental. Many a staunch Protestant who criticises, denounces and raves over everything appertaining to Roman Catholicism might just as easily been born a devout Roman Catholic and thus be the object of the criticism and scorn he now pours out on others, or he who insists he belongs to the only true church might have been born one of those he now regards as a heretic, or even a heathen savage.

The circumstances of birth have placed some men on thrones, or in positions of luxury and wealth, while others have been born as slaves and into dire poverty. Each man may be doing his duty as he sees it, honestly and fearlessly, striving for individual, community and world betterment. But neither the one nor the other has the right to look condescendingly on his fellow man nor deride him. They may not agree upon what constitutes world betterment, and each has full liberty of action to strive for the attainment of that in which he believes or desires. Constructive teaching and action looking to the realization of desired ends is righteousness and should be indulged in, but narrow, bitter, dogmatic criticism, purely destructive in its nature and intent, is not only deplorable and to be condemned, but, in the final analysis, it is futile in results.

What this old world needs, probably more than anything else, in its present stage of development, is a more universal acceptance of the meaning of the good old English word, "criticism." People need to realize that their thinking processes, their words written and spoken, their actions; they need to subdue their passions, curb their prejudices, look beyond their environment; in a word, in business, in government, in community life, in all our intimate social intercourse, there is imperative need for careful weighing and balancing, for fine, exact, authoritative judgment. Prejudice and selfishness require to give way to reasonableness, a willingness to recognize and study the other fellow's point of view.

That is, the world needs today, as it has always needed and always will need, the application of the Golden Rule, the spirit of co-operation, in the every day activities of life, be those activities great or small, vitally significant or relatively unimportant.

Business As Usual

An insurance agent had outstayed his welcome in a merchant's office, and took no notice of the many broad hints that he was making himself a nuisance. At last his victim got him by the cuff of the neck and pitched him down stairs. The man got up, retrieved his hat, and turning to the man at the top of the stairs, he said calmly, "Looking apart, what about that insurance policy?"

The Mother of Seven Children Used It for Diarrhoea

Mrs. Eva Brinkley, R.R. No. 2, Hagersville, Ont., writes: "I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die. My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Kidney and Bladder Remedy. I gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again. My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same results."

Manitoba Vicious Huge Power Project

Development Of Dauphin River Power
Would Be Great Benefit To Province

A likely means of balancing agricultural and industrial development in Manitoba was pictured by Premier Bracken in his address to the Young men's Section of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, recently, on "The Feasibility of the Dauphin River as a power development scheme." Properly developed, the Dauphin River project would be the largest individual development in Manitoba, he said, and would increase the power resources of the province by probably 400,000 h.p. It would round out the whole power situation in Manitoba; assure all parts of the province of a supply of low-priced hydro power for many years; facilitate the development of industry in urban centres and of municipal services in the rural centres with the possibility of adding 59 per cent. to the industrial future of the southern part of Manitoba.

Amish Mennonites Ban Radios

Classify Them With Musical Instruments Sent By Devil

Bringing the extremely strict tenets of their creed up to date, the Amish Mennonite conference of Ontario which concurred a three-day session at the Naperville church, Wellesley Village, near Kitchener, Ontario, has decreed that radios must be banned from all Amish Mennonite homes, the sect classifying radios with musical instruments which have been banned since the sect was founded.

Musical instruments, along with many other modern luxuries and even some so-called conveniences, are banned from the homes of Amish Mennonites as being instruments of the devil designed to lead the faithful away from devout worship of the Almighty. Penalty for violation of the ban on radios in the home is excommunication from the church.

Saskatchewan Boy Dies From Eating Wild Parsnips

After eating some wild parsnips, which he found near his father's farm, Gregory Kotok, son of a well-known farmer of the Foam Lake district, died before medical assistance could be obtained. No inquest was considered necessary, the youngster having told his parents what he had eaten.

Wild parsnips are deadly poison, even when cooked. Recently the University of Saskatchewan agricultural authorities issued a warning against eating this weed.

Cloud Of Insects Visits Alaskan Island

Report From Wrangell States All

Vegetation Was Destroyed. A despatch from Wrangell, Alaska, states that a cloud of insects which filled the skies to such density that they could be grasped in the air by the handful, visited and destroyed vegetation on Vank Island.

J. G. Smith, a fox farmer, said the insects were borne to the island by a southwest wind. He described them as about half an inch in length, with red legs and with a head and mouth resembling an ant.

They alighted on the trees and shrubs, eating a single hole in each leaf, he added. Strawberry blossoms turned black later.

Have Better Chances

The family which possesses a piece of land and will work it so that it will produce the things they must have to sustain life, is vastly better off than the general run of population of the towns and cities, even though they may not be out of employment now. It has been a long, hard pull lately for the farmers but they are not without something with which to pull, as is the unhappy condition of the unemployed in the cities.

Invents New Type Of Engine

Windsor Resident May Sell Rights

To English Company. After 20 years of effort William Mackirdy of Windsor and Detroit is ready to offer for market an engine which is declared to be revolutionary and in many ways not comparable with anything on the market.

The inventor describes his product as a combination of the Diesel principle of internal combustion, that is, burning fuel oil under high pressure, and the principle of steam wherein the surplus heat of the Diesel—present lost in water jackets—is utilized in generating a highly superheated steam. It has all the virtues of the Diesel practice and the steam principle, with none of the disadvantages. It is asserted.

When Sir Harry Brittain, director of D. Napier and Sons, of England, visited Detroit recently he crossed the river for the express purpose of examining the engine. On his request, complete plans of an engine for a mammoth flying boat have been forwarded to England. The English company has suggested taking over the world rights of manufacture if the engine meets with the inventor's claims. Sir Harry expressed himself as very favorably impressed.

Aim Of Marketing Committee To See That Producers Obtain More Of Value Consumers Pay

Directing its attention to the marketing of farm products, the House of Commons committee on agriculture heard Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, outline his suggestions as to how the committee should proceed. He urged that the attention of the committee should be first devoted to the marketing of dairy, bacon and poultry products, as these could be disposed of more expeditiously than the other elements involved in the problem. Later the committee could take up questions connected with wheat and livestock.

The first aim of the committee is to see if we can make it possible for the producers to get more of the value which the consumer pays at the present time," he said.

"I want the committee to feel free to attack these problems of marketing without prejudice," said the minister, "and I think it should be representatives of the private, co-operative and produce interests, that it should meet from time to time and discuss the best means of marketing so as to avoid as far as possible the practise of private interests buying commodities at bottom prices and holding them for higher values without the producers getting the best value out of them."

What was needed was more education for the producer, what should be produced and at what time it should be marketed, he said.

"We feel we should get the lowest freight rates from the steamship companies, but we cannot expect these companies to put their vessels at our disposal only for certain months. If we want cattle carried at the cheapest rate our supplies must be so distributed as to keep up a regular flow of cattle for export," Mr. Weir said.

"Agricultural colleges should pay more attention to marketing," the minister proceeded. "Education is the work of the provinces, yet we could add to that by bringing one or two men at federal expense and sending them through our agricultural colleges to give lectures on this subject."

The spread between what the farmer receives for his eggs and what the consumer pays occupied the attention of the House of Commons committee on agriculture.

W. A. Brown, chief of the poultry division of the Department of Agriculture, addressed the committee on the operations of his branch. He analyzed costs to show that the farmer ordinarily received about 50 per cent. of the consumer's price, the remainder going on freight, grading, wholesalers' and retailers' profits.

Another Scientific Discovery

Process To Prevent Fermentation Of Frozen Fruits and Vegetables

Discovery of a process to prevent fermentation of fruits and vegetables frozen in storage, has been announced by the British department of scientific and industrial research. It has been found that if vegetables are boiled or partially cooked before they are frozen their color and flavor will be preserved unimpaired. Boiling, it has been found, destroys the enzymes completely and permanently, leaving the vegetables in such a condition that they may be safely frozen and stored in suitable containers, either under liquid covering or exposed to the air.

Pacific Coast Salmon Finds Ready Market In Distant Climes

"On the road to Mandalay," and east or west of Suez, also in London, Paris, Berlin and other famous centres, canned and frozen salmon from British Columbia was successfully marketed in 1926. All varieties of Pacific salmon were included in the export shipments, but it was found that some markets, such as Paris and Berlin, apparently preferred in the frozen salmon, cohoes and the steelhead variety. Most of the shipments were made from Victoria and were sent to the distant markets over transportation systems equipped with cold storage facilities. For the most part, the consignments were in the nature of test shipments, but the company carrying on the business reported gratifying success. It is expected that this year the field of shipment will be extended.

Artificial Fertilizers

300 Tons Of Fertilizer From Trail Plant Being Used In Sugar Belt Area of Southern Alberta

Three hundred tons of artificial fertilizers have been used in the sugar beet area of southern Alberta this season, and correspondingly large amounts are being utilized in growing other crops in other sections of the Prairie Provinces, according to Dr. R. E. Neidig, director of agriculture for the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail. Two cars of fertilizer, which is being manufactured as a by product of smelting operations at the Trail plant were shipped to the Orient early in the year, said Dr. Neidig, and tests of its efficiency in increasing crop production are being carried on in every province from British Columbia to Ontario.

Amount Of Business Transacted Shows a Large Increase This Year

British business is being done by the Saskatchewan Poultry Pool this year, showing a marked increase over that of last year. Reports presented at the recent directors' meeting showed that from March 1st to May 2nd, the pool handled a total of 175 carloads of eggs and some of the larger branches, at the peak, towards the end of the period, were handling four carloads weekly. "The increase in volume is general all over the province," says the report, "indicating that Saskatchewan as a whole is producing more of the product than ever before."

Vicious Operations Of Reparations And War Debts Delaying Economic Recovery

Establish Packing Plant

Saskatchewan Cattle For British Co-Operative Societies

Saskatchewan farmers are turning their attention more to the production of cattle for the British market. The Saskatchewan Co-operative Livestock Producers, Ltd., is reported to have an agreement with British Co-operative Societies for the shipment of live cattle and it is understood that negotiations are under way to supply these societies also with chilled and frozen products. The Saskatchewan company has purchased a building in Saskatoon and will immediately establish a packing plant. Modern machinery will be installed and will include a meat-processing plant and a chilling and refrigerating system. It is expected that the plant will be in operation within two months.

This is the first co-operative plant of the kind established by a farmers' organization in the Province of Saskatchewan. In addition to the export market which it is hoped to build up the plant will compete for local business. The location has been selected with a view to utilizing the new Hudson Bay route to Europe via the port of Churchill. First shipments are expected to go forward about the first of September.

Trap Nest Competition

Results Of Alberta 100-Day Winter Trap Nest Tests Are Announced

The records of the Alberta 100-day winter trap nest test for the year 1926-27 have all been checked and the official certificates issued. The three highest pens are those of Mrs. Ed. Kehoe, Camrose; F. J. Delsman, Big Valley, and George Zinger, Stunmore. The flock of Mrs. Kehoe, who is a director of the Alberta poultry pool, comes first with 80 per cent. of her Rhode Island Reds qualifying for certificates. Out of 65 birds entered, 28 laid 70 or more eggs during the 100 days, and 21 laid over 80. Only seven birds failed owing to low egg weights.

Valuable Chemicals From Alkali Lakes

Production Of Sodium Sulphate Last Year Amounted To 31,571 Tons

The alkali lakes of the Prairie Provinces have begun to add materially to the mineral production of Western Canada with an increase in 1930 of well over 500 per cent. in the production of sodium sulphate. From the deposits of this material, in plentiful supply on the Prairies, only 5,618 tons were taken in 1929, but last year, according to preliminary figures of the Dominion Government, production rose to 31,571 tons.

"The economic recovery of the world depends upon it," says a manifesto of the German government, and the "U" means a new deal for reparations and war debts. This, unless it can be shown to be mere politics and eyewash, is a grave and important statement, and no responsible statesman, we believe, will attempt to show that there is more politics. It borrows strength from the decree to impose $200,000,000 of new taxes upon the German people. It fills in between the official communiqué that last week-end, the "Chouquers Court," which the minister and the foreign secretary of Great Britain met their opposite numbers of Germany, "Mandelbrunnen and Foreign Minister."

This new taxation is described as "one last effort." "Last effort" is a very often not to be anything less than a last effort, and certainly there is no aid or comfort in the language of despair about this. It is probably exaggerated to say that the present low cost of the business and industry in the world is referable to the vicious operations of reparations and war debts. But it is soberly true that the principal point of economic distortion is international trade; that the symbols of the depression are international commodities, wheat, metals, cotton, sugar, rubber, coffee, oil, that the dead weight of reparations and war debts is a dragging burden upon the exchange and movement of these commodities. And it is true that the condition of the world really does approach at last the place where the reparations scheme is likely to break down altogether.

Nothing can be done about this business, and there can be no realism in any discussion of it which refuses to meet the fact, without the consent and co-operation of the United States. The United States is the ultimate creditor of reparations and war debts. Germany is the ultimate debtor. The only way in which Germany can pay, if at all, is in the same currency in which she owes her debts. The United States insists that the debts must be paid. At the same time, the United States insists upon the maintenance of policies domestic and foreign which make it increasingly impossible to pay the debts at all. The high wall of tariffs which keeps out the commodities of the debtor nations is bound to keep out the remittances of payments on the debts.

That is the inevitable process, and that is the logic of the present situation of world depression, at least as much of it, and it is a tremendous part which depends upon international trade. Germany has been paying reparations mainly by new borrowings the calumnious paradox which means that Germany has been paying reparations by not paying them. It is an impossible state of affairs. It is a state of affairs, that is to say, that is bound to crash. How much longer can it continue? Van cover Prussia.

VISIT YOUR EXPERIMENTAL STATION

(Experimental Farms Note)

An opportunity to see, know and believe results in agricultural experiments is the advantage of every Canadian citizen who uses the privilege of a guided visit through a Dominion Experimental Farm.

While individuals are always welcome, it is not humanly possible to properly serve many visitors coming singly. The way to come is with an organized party. It may be a community group, a part of an agricultural society, or any other rural organization. Thirty to one hundred adults make a convenient group. A large crowd becomes scattered and cannot be addressed in a feasible way.

A few arrangements are necessary. The superintendent will gladly arrange a date when he and adequate staff can be in attendance. It is preferable to bring a lunch and have a social picnic on the grounds. Be prepared to ask questions freely. A receptive frame of mind will prove a valuable asset in order to absorb the information which will be your opportunity to receive.

Twelve to fifteen organized parties usually visit each Experimental Station during part of the summer months every year—usually during July and early August. The party is conducted through the departments of the Farm by the person in charge of the work. Ladies usually divide their time between flowers, garden and poultry, while the men spend most of their time examining field experiments and live stock. A competition with suitable prizes is arranged whereby the men estimate yields of grain from certain experiments and the ladies show their ability to tell names of flowers after an explanatory tour over the beds and borders. These competitions are conducted for organized parties and not for individuals.

Ask any person who has been a member of a party visiting an Experimental Farm if the trip was worth while. Progressive farmers usually have the habit of visiting their experimental station. Certain rural organizations have chosen a visit to their experimental station as their annual outing.

We are in receipt of an anonymous letter regarding the Didsbury Fair. It is not necessary that the signature be published, and a non-de-plume can be used.

Sylvan Lake was a very popular resort with Didsbury people Sunday. Among those seen there were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugst and family; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillipson and family; Mr. and Mrs. T. Finley; Mr. and Mrs. E. Barnes, senr.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Barnes, junr.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clarke and family; Mr. Norman Clarke; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Studer and Miss Winnie Studer.

It was a freight train, he confessed, and he hadn't had a ticket. "How much does it cost from Calgary to Saskatoon, and from Saskatoon to Kindersley?" he asked. "I didn't have the money then, but now I have, and my conscience tells me I must make it square." They figured it out to be three pound ten, and the erstwhile harvester paid his debt in three instalments.

BASEBALLDIDSBURY vs CARSTAIRS

Didsbury defeated Carstairs 13-8 Wednesday night last in a game in which both good and mediocre ball was displayed. It was a real game for five innings, with fine pitching and fielding predominating. Up to then the score was 3-0 for the locals who scored on errors and a home-run by Charlie Cook.

Then in the sixth spasm the locals collected five hits for six runs to clinch the game. Scott Lee pitched another superb game for Didsbury, having 15 strikeouts to his credit. Walter Irwin in his first game for Didsbury covered left field like a veteran.

Score by innings:
Carstairs 000 000 111-3 6 5
Didsbury 005 006 22x-13 12 5

INNISFAIL vs DIDSBURY

The local ball team lost a close and hard fought game at Innisfail Monday night by a score of 9-8. Twice the score was tied and both times Didsbury broke the tie to have an 8-5 lead up to the last half of the 9th inning. Innisfail went on a slugfest and aided by a rank decision of the base umpire ran in four corners to clinch the game.

Bob Gooder pitched a fine game for the losers and only for the saved effort of work by umpires would have another win tucked away under his belt. Ken Robinson also played a fine game around the right pasture.

Drudgery

is an Extravagance

FOR five hours today this woman patiently toiled over a washboard . . . bending, lifting, rubbing . . . doing the things a tireless little Laxaire Vacuum can do in two hours. By after day, she dusts, sweeps, cleans . . . doing things a vacuum cleaner would do twice as fast with half the effort.

With Electricity ever at hand such drudgery is an extravagant waste of time and effort. Hours that now drag slowly by might be enjoyed in doing the things she'd rather do. The woman who wishes golden hours of freedom must first break the shackles of housework. Electricity is ready to help.

The Calgary Power Company representative in your territory can procure for you any item of electrical equipment. He will tell you about the attractive terms upon which you can purchase many electrical appliances— with a small cash payment and the balance on your monthly light bills.

Before Her Baby Came

"I have used several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find it helps me wonderfully, especially before childbirth. I have five lovely children. After my last baby came I had a miserable pain in my right side so I bought another bottle of the Compound and I feel fine now. Shows Faith In Canada

Sum Invested In Her Industries Is Over Six Billion

The impressive fact that the sum invested in Canadian industries is no less than $6,350,000,000 is mentioned by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, in a foreword to the "Canadian Resources Supplement" published by the Financial Times of London, England. Still more impressive, he says, is the fact that sums contributed from outside sources are held in proportion of 61 per cent. by the United States and 35 per cent. by Great Britain.

Detailing a few facts to indicate the "extraordinary resilience of Canadian industrial activities during the period of acute world-wide depression," Mr. Ferguson records as another impressive fact that building contracts during the first ten months of 1930 totalled $100,000,000. He says, "this hardly looks like fatalism or resignation to depression. Building contracts on this scale are as reliable an indication of Canada's prosperity as any that can be found."

Amend Copyright Act

Bill Drafted To Conform With Rome Convention of 1928

Parliament has given third reading to a bill amending the Copyright Act, approving the final three clauses in a short time. Nine clauses were passed in committee. The bill went on to the senate.

Phibing the bill through the House, Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state, said he hoped a thorough revision of the copyright law might be undertaken but indicated it would require "a great deal of time."

The bill is drafted in order to bring the present copyright law into conformity with the Rome convention of 1928, and Canada is required to deposit this country's adherence to that convention by July 1. In general its purpose was to extend the provisions of the copyright so as to embrace radio broadcasting and cinematograph reproductions, those developments not being in existence when the original Berne convention was drafted.

As the bill operates, individuals who have not registered their works will not possess the right of suit in respect of such unregistered works. In the case of assignments having been made, only such assignments as have been registered will vest in the assignee whatever court rights are established. Unregistered assignments will have no status before the courts.

Organizations to whom copyrighted works have been assigned and who charge fees for the performance of such works will be subjected to government regulation if, after an enquiry by a commissioner under the Enquiries Act, it is shown that excessive fees are being charged or that the organizations are operating detrimentally to the public interest.

A Real Patriot

It was a beautiful Sunday morning Simpson, having finished reading a paper printed with an invention made in Germany, set out with his wife for the meeting house of a faith found in Palestine. Contemplating the beauty of the land, which had been discovered by an Italian in the employ of a Spanish queen and musing on the liberty it possessed, thanks to the help of a French navy, his bosom swelled with pride. "Thank God," said Simpson fervently in a language imported from the British Isles, "I am a one-hundred-per-cent. American."

Was Pioneer Agriculturist

Late Dr. Angus MacKay Was Originator Of Better Methods Of Farming On The Prairies

Dr. Angus MacKay, 91, veteran Saskatchewan agriculturist, who died recently at Indian Head, was amongst the first contingent of settlers which came from Ontario when the Canadian Pacific Railway opened in Manitoba.

With three companions, Williamson, Miller and Boon, Saskatchewan's pioneer agriculturist was one of the founders of the first co-operative enterprise in western Canada. It was with these three that Dr. MacKay formed a company, with the four as shareholders when he arrived at Indian Head, a 150-mile journey from the nearest rail line.

For half a dozen years these men worked together until the Dominion government undertook to establish an experimental farm in the west. This was in 1887, and a year later a farm of 800 acres was purchased from a company which owned a much larger tract in the Qu'Appelle district.

Angus MacKay was called on by the government to give assistance in the choosing of land for the new venture in the west and he it was who became superintendent.

For 26 years he held the position and in 1913 was retired. Ever since he had taken keen interest in agricultural problems and had been recipient of many honors. At convocation on May 5, 1922, the degree of LL.D. was conferred on him by the University of Saskatchewan.

Educated in the Old White Grammar school in the town where he was born, Dr. MacKay spent the first 42 years of his long life in the east. He saw military service during the time of the Fenian raid when he was lieutenant in the 34th regiment of Foot.

With several others he was known as the originator of better methods of farming on the prairies. He shares the credit for the position western Canada holds in the world as a great wheat producing area. With his colleague, Hon. Dr. W. R. Motherwell, Mr. MacKay preached the gospel of conservation of moisture, better cultivation, intelligent farming and restriction of varieties of grain.

The experimental farm at Indian Head stands a living monument of his work in the west.

In his immediate family Dr. MacKay is survived by his widow, two sons, Donald G. and Robert G. MacKay, and one daughter, Agnes M. MacKay, all of Indian Head.

In military matters Oliver Cromwell made every mistake known to strategy, yet he won all his battles.

Gandhi Prefers Humble Quarters In London

Chooses To Live In Garret Among The Poorer Class

Mahatma Gandhi, who will leave India about the middle of August to attend meetings of the federal structures committee in London, England, has decided that when he gets there he will live among the most humble mendicants of Kinsley Hall, London's east-end home for the poor.

While India's other delegates to the round table conference install themselves in the city's hotels or the castles of their friends, he will be in a garret among surroundings unlike those familiar to the people who revere him so highly at home.

If the weather permits he will not even alter his habitual costume of white shawl and thin cotton linen cloth, but if it is cold he will wear a homespun coat and the conventional European trousers. When he appears before the King and Queen it will be in the Indian costume with shaven head and bare feet.

Despite the problems of state with which he is concerned, one of his major considerations at the moment is how he will obtain fresh goat's milk in London, England, and on the way there. Contrary to reports he cannot take his own flock of goats which are milked twice daily in his presence, and it is likely he will instruct Miss Slade, his British attendant and disciple, to take along a supply of condensed milk.

Life is just a one-way street.

A most enjoyable social afternoon was spent by the W.I. on July 8th at the home of Mrs. Jas. Hosegood. Routine business having been disposed of, all enjoyed the program arranged by the hostess. Mrs. R. MacFarlane sang in a pleasing manner and Albert Krebs accompanied by Mrs. Hosegood, rendered a violin solo and Connie Hosegood entertained with a pianoforte solo. Contests added to the enjoyment and Mrs. Evans, Bessie Evans, Doreen Farrant and Mrs. J. Clarke were the lucky ones. During the afternoon Mrs. Hosegood was quite surprised with the presentation of a Jardiniere. Her occasion being her birthday. A dainty lunch was served after which everyone enjoyed Mrs. Hosegood's flowers and departed, voting this social time the "best yet."
